Chicago River Schools Network

Through the CRSN, Friends of the Chicago River helps teachers use the Chicago River as a context for learning and a setting for service. By connecting the curriculum and students to a natural resource right in their backyard, learning takes on new relevance and students discover that their actions can make a difference. We support teachers by offering teacher workshops, one-on-one consultations, and equipment for loan, lessons and assistance on field trips. Through our Adopt A River School program, schools can choose to adopt a site along the Chicago River. They become part of a network of schools working together to monitor and improve the river.
